ENVOY SECURES WILSON'S VIEWS

Count Von Bernstorff Calls at White House.

INTENDS CABLING TO BERLIN

German Ambassador Is Given to Understand the Intense Feeling Which the Sinking of the Lusitania and Other Violations of American Rights on the High Seas Has Aroused.

Washington, June 3.—One tangible result of the conference at the White House between President Wilson and Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador, will be that the latter will be assisted by the administration in sending the kaiser a direct message. The state department's facilities have been thrown open to the ambassador.

He will send a message to the American embassy at Berlin, which will be presented to the foreign office. This message is expected to contain a complete and frank statement of the feeling in this country, coupled with a report on his conference with the president.

The German ambassador called at the White House of his own volition and without instructions of any nature from his government. It is known that he had no authority to state that there has been or there will be a change in Germany's attitude toward submarine warfare. He was actuated by a desire to put aside the formalities of diplomacy and take direct steps that might lead to a continuation of peace between the United States and Germany.

In taking this position Count von Bernstorff apparently sought to emulate Leonidas at Thermopylae, or Sam Bowle and Davy Crockett at the Alamo. The possibility was at hand to become a hero. He had before him the opportunity of pacifying another and powerful incipient antagonist of his native country. He took the one open chance just as other heroes of history and fiction have seized.

Lines to Berlin Closed.

The ambassador told the president that he has been unable to communicate with his government in a satisfactory manner recently, because of the conditions surrounding lines of transmission. He explained that for this reason it has been impossible for him to tell the kaiser plainly and frankly how anti-German feeling in this country has grown and of the apparent determination of the United States government to take extreme measures in support of the president's demands.

It is believed here that the ambassador personally is extremely anxious to take any steps that will keep the United States out of the European war. There are reasons for believing that the ambassador realizes that if the United States is drawn into the war it will mean sure defeat for the Fatherland. There are reasons for believing that the ambassador feels the moment has arrived when he may be able to play a tremendous part in history by maintaining the friendly relations that now exist between the two countries.

Persons who are familiar with the ambassador's viewpoint called attention to the fact that President Wilson has been compelled to severely criticize his activity on several occasions. Because of this public criticism it is believed the ambassador would not have asked to be received at the White House unless he felt he might be able to render his country an unusual service.

The German ambassador was with the president hardly twenty minutes. Wilson Offers Assistance.

Inasmuch as above all things the administration desires that Germany shall realize fully just what is the view that obtains here the president offered to the German ambassador such assistance as the United States government can render in transmitting a report of the president's views to Berlin. Accordingly arrangements have been made for the state department to transmit the ambassador's report.

President Wilson emphasized in his informal talk with Count von Bernstorff the intense feeling of the American people over the sinking of the Lusitania and other violations of American rights on the high seas and impressed upon him that the United States must insist on an adherence by Germany to the accepted principles of international law as they affect neutrals.

No announcements were made after the conference, but it was said authoritatively that there would be no change in the plan of the president and his cabinet to send, in response to the German reply to the last American note, an inquiry to ascertain definitely whether the imperial German

PRINCE AUGUST.

Kaiser's Son Recovers From Auto Accident.

Berlin, June 3.—Prince August William of Hohenzollern, fourth son of Emperor William, who was injured severely in an automobile accident on the western battle front during the winter, has so far recovered that he was able to start to rejoin the staff of the army to which he is attached. The prince, however, still is suffering from the consequences of the accident and it will be some time before he has fully recovered.

government will abide by international law, or follow its own rules of maritime warfare. The note, which is being written by President Wilson, will be dispatched before the end of the week.

In official and diplomatic quarters opinion was divided as to the effect of the conference. Some thought it would be beneficial and bring from Germany a conciliatory reply to the next American communication. Others pointed out that the German ambassador similarly was hopeful when President Wilson's note of May 13 was dispatched and that he recommended several methods to the German foreign office of meeting the American position satisfactorily.

It is an open secret in diplomatic quarters, however, that the ambassador's suggestions were not followed then and speculation was widespread as to what influence his communication—expressing as it will, the view point of the president himself—might have on his government.

German Officials and Public Are Showing Keen Interest.

Berlin, June 3.—The officials of the government and the general public are waiting expectantly upon the American developments in the exchange of notes between Germany and the United States respecting the Lusitania, expectancy which is deepened by the fact that no trustworthy indications regarding the American attitude on the German answer are yet available here.

The German foreign office is unable to communicate with Count von Bernstorff, the ambassador at Washington, except by wireless in plain language, and even this mode of communication is uncertain during periods when the static conditions of the atmosphere are unfavorable.

REPULSE GERMAN ATTACKS

Austrians Assert They Are Winning in Galicia.

Vienna, June 3.—The official statement issued by the Austrian war office reads as follows:

"The Russians have renewed their strong attacks against the allied troops on the eastern bank of the San. Desperate attacks everywhere have been repulsed with heavy Russian losses.

"On the northern front of Przemyśl two additional fortifications have been stormed and we have maintained the conquered ground.

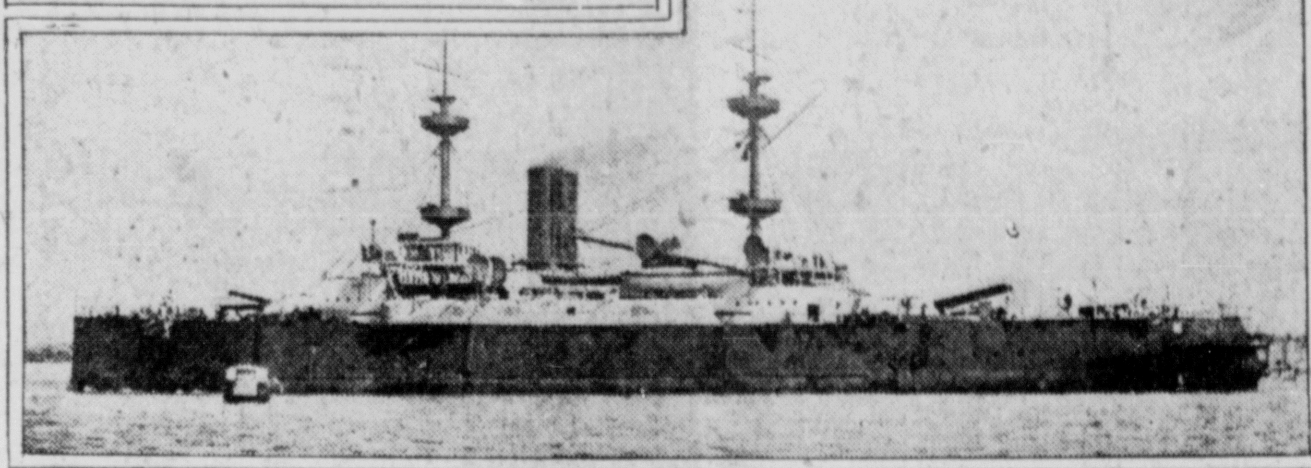

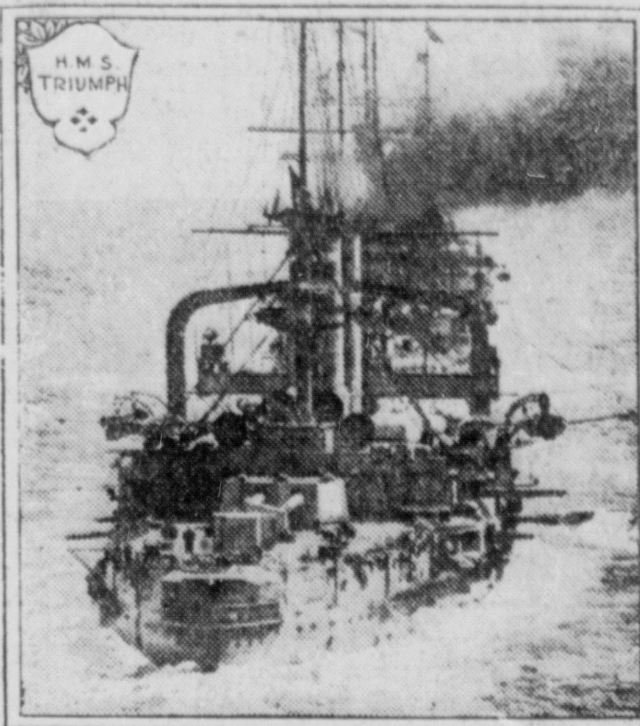

"South of the Dneister our attacks are successfully progressing. Hostile positions between Stry and Drohobycz were stormed.

"Strong Russian forces which attacked our position near Solotwina, in South Galicia, suffered severe losses. They retreated, and at some points, took flight."

To Confer on Finances.

London, June 3.—The chancellor of the exchequer, accompanied by the governor of the Bank of England and the financial secretary of the treasury, will meet the Italian financial minister at Nice this week to discuss financial questions arising from Italy's entry into war, says an official statement made public.

Two British Warships Sunk in the Dardanelles

H.M.S. MAJESTIC.

The British battleships Triumph and Majestic were victims of German submarines in the Dardanelles this week. The Triumph, a battleship of 11,800 tons, launched in 1903, was sunk Wednesday, and the Majestic, of 14,900 tons, built in 1895 was sunk Thursday.

The Triumph, which cost a little less than five million dollars, was a battleship of the second class. She carried four ten-inch guns, fourteen seven and one half inch guns and a number of smaller guns for attack on submarines and torpedo boats. Her armor was made in Germany by the Krupps. Her speed averaged about eighteen knots.

The Majestic, the larger though older vessel, carried four twelve inch guns and twelve six inch guns with a number of smaller weapons. She cost five million dollars. She, like the Triumph, was a second class ship and was three hundred and thirteen feet long. The Majestic carried 757 men and the Triumph carried 700.

DECLARATION OF WAR IS UNNECESSARY IF DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS ARE BROKEN

(By United Press)

Washington, June 3.—President Wilson will soon have a legal opinion disposing of Germany's latest contentions in the Lusitania case. This opinion will state positively that the presence of arms and Canadian reservists is irrelevant. It will show that the port collector positively examined the Lusitania at New York, even entering the hold, without finding guns. The decks of the vessel were not strengthened to receive the weight of guns of this description, and that the carrying of small arms and ammunition was irrelevant. The charge that the manifest was falsified, amounts if true, to a case of fraud or conspiracy against the government in making the vessel carrying contraband subject to seizure but not destruction.

The officials assert that a declaration of war does not necessarily follow if diplomatic relations are broken, and Holland or the Southern American country would be asked to take care of the United States interests at Berlin. If the break comes the safe conduct of Count Bernstorff and Ambassador Gerard is assured, and Bernstorff would take the Holland-American line via Amsterdam. It is doubted if Turkey will break with the United States in any event.

ASKED FOR ASSURANCES

(By United Press)

"During June 1 close hand to hand fighting occurred on our northern front. At the northern section of our position two saps of the enemy were rushed by our men, with the intention of filling them in, but a heavy bombing checked the work and one party had to fall back. The other party still hold to its position between our firing line and that of the enemy.

"This action made necessary heavy artillery support, to which the enemy replied vigorously, regardless of expense. Throughout this fighting the enemy again lost heavily.

"On the southern sector the Turks made repeated attacks during the night of June 1 and 2 against the French right and twice recaptured a fort captured May 29. On both occasions the enemy was driven out and the new French front remains intact.

"On the British front all was quiet."

TRAINMEN GIVEN WAGE INCREASE

Northern Pacific Railway and Employees Agree.

CLOSES LONG NEGOTIATIONS

Representatives of the Company and Men Have Been Eighteen Months in Arriving at an Agreement—Increased Cost to the Road Will Be About $25,000 a Year.

St. Paul, June 3.—A new wage schedule, assuring higher pay to trainmen on the Northern Pacific railway than on any Western road, was concluded by officers of the company and representatives of the employees. The schedule resulted from negotiations lasting eighteen months and costing the trainmen's organization more than $27,000 and is considered a signal victory by the employees.

The most important features of the new schedule are an increase in the pay of through freight brakemen from $2.78 to $2.82 a day, a guaranteed minimum of 3,000 miles a month to all trainmen, and a mandatory rule providing that three brakemen will be used on all main line local freight trains.

The new rate for through freight brakemen is the highest with one exception in the territory, while no other road in the West guarantees 3,000 miles a month to its trainmen.

The cost of the new schedule to the company has not been estimated, but according to the leaders of the trainmen will not be much more than $25,000 a year, if the road takes full advantage of all the rules. The advantages to the trainmen, however, will be very great, as each man will be assured a good wage. One rule, providing that passenger brakemen may select a new standard of uniform, will save each of these employees $20 a year. Other important concessions to employees are as follows:

Two cents an hour increase in wages for yardmen at Butte, Mont. Thirty men affected.

Concessions to Yard Crews.

Yard crews beginning work before 6:30 a. m. or after 8 p. m. will be paid night rates, 2 cents an hour higher than day rates.

The rule governing seniority of yardmen and trainmen amended to give these men the full exercise of their rights.

The rule requiring the company to give train and yard men an investigation before administering discipline changed to provide that the accused employee may appeal the case and offer evidence and that the decision will be rendered promptly.

Switching zones, within which road crews will be paid in addition to the minimum day allowed on the road, established at the principal switching centers.

The rights of passenger and freight trainmen are made interchangeable.

The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen was represented at the wage conference by A. F. Whitney of Chicago, vice president of the national organization and representative of the grand lodge of the order, and E. L. Harrigan, chairman of the general committee of the order on the Northern Pacific. The schedule was signed for the company by George T. Slade, vice president, and J. M. Rapelje, general manager.

"The railroad company showed a splendid spirit throughout the negotiations," said Mr. Whitney. "There was not a particle of ill feeling on either side and we feel very grateful to the officials for their fair consideration of our appeal. The employees appreciate this fairness to the full."

The cost of the new schedule to the company has not been estimated, but according to the leaders of the trainmen will not be much more than $25,000 a year, if the road takes full advantage of all the rules. The advantages to the trainmen, however, will be very great, as each man will be assured a good wage. One rule, providing that passenger brakemen may select a new standard of uniform, will save each of these employees $20 a year. Other important concessions to employees are as follows:

Two cents an hour increase in wages for yardmen at Butte, Mont. Thirty men affected.

Concessions to Yard Crews.

Yard crews beginning work before 6:30 a. m. or after 8 p. m. will be paid night rates, 2 cents an hour higher than day rates.

The rule governing seniority of yardmen and trainmen amended to give these men the full exercise of their rights.

The rule requiring the company to give train and yard men an investigation before administering discipline changed to provide that the accused employee may appeal the case and offer evidence and that the decision will be rendered promptly.

Switching zones, within which road crews will be paid in addition to the minimum day allowed on the road, established at the principal switching centers.

The rights of passenger and freight trainmen are made interchangeable.

The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen was represented at the wage conference by A. F. Whitney of Chicago, vice president of the national organization and representative of the grand lodge of the order, and E. L. Harrigan, chairman of the general committee of the order on the Northern Pacific. The schedule was signed for the company by George T. Slade, vice president, and J. M. Rapelle, general manager.

"The railroad company showed a splendid spirit throughout the negotiations," said Mr. Whitney. "There was not a particle of ill feeling on either side and we feel very grateful to the officials for their fair consideration of our appeal. The employees appreciate this fairness to the toll."

main body of the Russian army

"BETTER late than never," may be all right for some things; but men think it a shame to let time slip along without their friends getting the comfort of the Real Tobacco Chew.
Every day they are telling friends to get started right.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS!!
W-B CUT IS LONG SHRED, RIGHT-CUT IS SHORT SHRED.
Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.
The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

"Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste."

REV. W. J. LOWRIE'S ADDRESS

Spoke to Veterans and High School Students on "Patriotism, Education and Christ"

Sabbath morning Rev. W. J. Lowrie in the Presbyterian church, spoke to the veterans of the Grand Army and to the Presbyterian students of the high school. The text was from Paul's letter to Timothy, "Fight the good fight of faith," and "I have fought a good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith."

The subject was "Patriotism, Education and Christ." Mr. Lowrie spoke as follows:

"In these Scripture verses there are several things to notice. It is the Apostle Paul who is speaking. He says, 'I have fought a good fight' and again he commands others, saying, 'Fight the good fight of faith.' Paul was a Christian an upstream Christian, not the kind that is idly drifting about with every wind of doctrine—he was going against the tide.

"As a Christian he had to fight. Some one has well compared this life to a warfare. Whether you be a soldier or a student you have a victory to win a battle to fight. In this great fight that is now on I wish to speak of three great factors, namely, patriotism, education and Christ. The closing of school and Memorial day bring these ideas into prominence at this time.

"The greatest asset of a country is its people—its men, women, boys and girls. America has been prodigal of its resources. The time has come when we must call a halt and take measures that will save for the future and for ourselves our God-given wealth of lake and forest, mineral and water power. But greater than all our endeavor must be to care for the manhood, womanhood and childhood of our people.

"There is a higher calling for our boys than to become living targets and cannon fodder; there is something better for our girls than to become mothers of men whose highest destiny is to be shot down in battle. Man was not made in the image of a Krag-Jorgensen rifle or a Gatling gun but in the image of God and His highest privilege is to glorify God and to enjoy Him forever.

"The three great factors in enabling man to fulfill this high destiny are patriotism, education and Christ.

Patriotism is that spirit born of love of country which prompts the patriot to obey its laws and study its welfare. The highest welfare of a country is not in the development of its mines, its industries. Its commerce but in the rearing of its men. Education is the training of the natural powers and bringing them into harmony. In speaking of one as educated simply not merely that he has acquired knowledge but that his mental powers have been trained to effective action.

Patriotism has for its aim the welfare of the greater number. Therefore it must be unselfish. Some of us must give our lives that others may live; some of us must be shot, wounded, crippled and maimed that others may have possession of all their physical members.

"The great object of education is to make man's work productive. Froude says: 'Labor is the inevitable lot of the majority and the best education is that which makes their labor most productive.' For him who is trying above all things else to cultivate right relationship with God, his Father, the great object of education is to make one most useful to himself and to others. The education that stands that test must have Christ as the Alpha and Omega of it.

"Patriotism without education produces a class of excitable who would go to war on the slightest pretense. Give that class control and it would have evolved this country in war long ago with Mexico and of late with European countries.

"Education without patriotism has produced such men as Benedict Arnold and Aaron Burr. These were men of great intellectual ability but lacking patriotism they became traitors and their names have gone down in execration.

"Patriotism and education without Christ has resulted in this present world war. The countries at war are all exceedingly patriotic. It is bred in the bones; taught in the schools and churches; sung to them in their mother's lullaby. So filled are they with patriotism that every national affront must immediately be wiped out in blood.

"Moreover these nations are educated with Germany the greatest military nation on earth the foremost scientific, intellectual and commercial people on earth. When scholars go abroad to complete their education it is to Germany they go; when artists seek for more instructions they go to France; musicians to Italy. These warlike countries whose lands are now a veritable chaos of hell and fury are cultured, educated, refined and patriotic but they lack the knowledge of the law of Christ.

"Christ expressed the principle that would stop every war and quench the violence of hatred that now exists. His teaching is, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself; love your enemies, bless them that curse you; turn the other cheek; if a man take away thy cloak give him your coat also; do unto others as you would have others do unto you; a new commandment I give unto you that you love one another as I have loved you; whosoever is angry with his brother shall be in danger of the judgment; love never faileth.

The nations in their wisdom have called these commands moonshine and impossible and as a result they are today baptized by fire and shell. The law of tooth and nail appeared more reasonable than the law of Christ.

"Combine patriotism, education and Christ and you have a trio of virtues that will exalt this nation, or any nation, above the stars. These three factors have greatest value when they are in combination and conjunction. Christ would have us put first things first—seek first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness, then all other valued things will fall into their proper place."

What Public Utility Commissions Say About Competition

POLICY IN WISCONSIN

A fundamental decision on this question, laid down by the Wisconsin Commission in the first year of its regulation of public utilities, was rendered in the La Crosse Gas and Electric Company case (2 W. R. C. R. 3, 5).

"Duplications of such plants is a waste of capital, whenever the services can be adequately furnished by one plant only. It necessarily means that interest and maintenance must be earned on a much greater, if not twice as great, an investment and that the actual cost of operation is likely to be relatively higher. Competition in this service therefore usually means a bitter struggle and low rates until one of the contestants is forced out of the field, when the rates are raised to the old level if not above it, or to a combination or understanding of some sort between them which also ultimately results in higher rates. In this case it often happens that the means which were thought to be the preventative of onerous conditions become the very agents through which such conditions are imposed. In fact, active and continuous competition between public utility corporations, furnishing the same service to the same locality seems to be out of the question. This has been shown by experience. Such competition is also contrary to the very nature of things. Two distinct and separate corporations are not likely to remain separate very long after it becomes clear that the services rendered by both can be more cheaply and more effectively furnished by only one of them."

INDIANA

In the case Hawks Electric Company vs City of Goshen (September 8, 1913), the Indiana Commission, while stating that the application did not come under the statute requiring certificate of convenience and necessity, made this statement in favor of regulated monopoly.

"Plaintiff contends that this section (Section 98 of the Shively Spencer Utility Commission Act) is applicable to the conditions in this case. That the spirit of this act is monopolistic is clear. That a single utility furnishing a product or service, in the end leads to better service and lower prices, when properly regulated, is no longer questioned by economists."

PENNSYLVANIA

Protection from Competition

The Commission has defined its position in regard to competition between public utility companies in two decisions, one dismissing the application of the Schuylkill Light, Heat & Power Company for approval of an ordinance granting the right to furnish service in the borough of Ashland involving competition with the Eastern Pennsylvania Light, Heat & Power Company, and the other dismissing the application of the Harmony Electric Company for similar action on an ordinance of the borough of Ellwood City served by the Pennsylvania Power Company. The Commission held that the entrance of a competing company into the territory served by a public service company is of doubtful utility. In the Ashland case the Commission says: "Long experience has shown that while the temporary effect of competition between public utilities occupying the same territory is to secure lower rates, the final result is likely to be the absorption of one by the other and then an increase of rates to pay the expense of the warfare." In the Ellwood City case the Commission says: "Vested rights and interests must be duly conserved and protected. The Commission has no warrant to invite or permit limited competition anywhere unless the area and population served, the need of the municipality, as based on its growth and development, reasonably show that the public welfare demands it. This principle of protection must be extended to the public utility to the end that the individual citizens, who have invested in its plant equipment in good faith, may be duly protected in their interests."

GOLD DUST

—it actually works at hundreds of tasks daily

"Let the Gold Dust Twins do your work" is much more than a popular phrase. It is based on truth, an actuality, for Gold Dust really works.

"Let the GOLD DUST TWINS do your work"

The millions of women who use it for dishwashing and scrubbing know this. But Gold Dust should be used for cleaning and brightening everything. It is the only washing and cleaning powder needed in any home.

The small quantity required is quickly taken up by hot or cold, hard or soft water—forming a perfect cleaning solution. The valuable antiseptic cleansing agent it contains helps to make things sanitariously clean, as well as bright and new-looking.

THE BATTLE BEGINS

BY V. E. MICHELL,

United Press Staff Correspondent.
St. Paul, Minn., June 3.—Petitions asking for a county option vote in Hennepin and Ramsey counties, were in circulation in Minneapolis and St. Paul, respective metropolises of the counties, today. Following a meeting that lasted well into last night, young people of the Young Peoples Citizens Committee started work on the circulation of the petitions early today. Petitions will be started at Duluth on Monday.

Encouraged by their victories at the polls Monday, when Douglas, Fillmore, Rock and Nobles counties were put dry, ousting thirty saloons, the drys renewed their efforts today for the battle next Monday, which is admittedly the greatest in the present campaign to make Minnesota dry.

The battle Monday, when 100 saloons hang in the balance, will be fought at the homes of some of Minnesota's present famous men. Mankato will be the objective of the fight in Blue Earth county. In Watonwan county, the objective will be St. James, the home of Gov. W. S. Hammond. In Olmstead county the big fight will be at Rochester, the home of the Mayors. Red Lake county's fight will bring into the fray Red Lake Falls, the home of Julius Schumahl, secretary of state, Long Prairie, the home of former candidate for governor, is in Todd county, another "battle ground." In Browns Valley, the home of Sam Y. Gordon, candidate for speaker of the house in the last legislature, Mr. Gordon himself is expected to take a stand in the fight that will engulf Traverse county.

Telephone Competition

Talk No. 2

Rates

Competition lowers rates for both local and long distance telephone service. If the pending franchise is granted, the Tri-State Company will extend its toll lines to Brainerd. Two toll lines necessarily mean better service, even though the quoted rates may be the same. Under competition operators do not charge for more time than you actually use the line. In addition the Tri-State lines have half rates after 6:30 at night. The Bell Company today charges $8.00 per month for a business telephone and $5.00 per month for a residence telephone in Milwaukee, while in Minneapolis with more telephones they charge $6.00 per month for a business telephone and $2.50 per a residence telephone. In New Orleans, with 339,000 people, they charge $9.00 per month. In cities of the size of St. Paul, such as Seattle, Washington, they charge $7.50 per month and in Denver $138.00 a year as against $72.00 per year or $6.00 per month in St. Paul.

Competition means particularly lower rates for residence service. The Northwestern charges $2.00 for a residence telephone in Brainerd; St. Cloud, Crookston and Virginia, where there is no competition. In Red Wing, it charges seventy-five cents per month; Austin, fifty cents; Albert Lea, fifty cents; Mankato, seventy-five cents or free with a business telephone and simply because competition exists.

In the face of these charges in the above competitive cities, does any one believe that the Minnesota Telephone Company cannot furnish four party selective residence service in Brainerd at One Dollar?

Dear Sirs:-

In reply to your inquiry

as regards the purity of the ice which you have put up ready for the market, will say that I have inspected the ice and also Peach Lake from whence the ice was out.

Owing to the fact that there is practically no sewage discharged into this lake and that the flow of water into this lake is from surrounding underground springs, I would say that your ice is absolutely pure and wholesome for both cooling and drinking purposes.

Telephone Competition

Rates

Competition lowers rates for both local and long distance telephone service. If the pending franchise is granted, the Tri-State Company will extend its toll lines to Brainerd. Two toll lines necessarily mean better service, even though the quoted rates may be the same. Under competition operators do not charge for more time than you actually use the line. In addition the Tri-State lines have half rates after 6:30 at night. The Bell Company today charges $8.00 per month for a business telephone and $5.00 per month for a residence telephone in Milwaukee, while in Minneapolis with more telephones they charge $6.00 per month for a business telephone and $2.50 per month for a residence telephone. In New Orleans, with 339,000 people, they charge $9.00 per month. In cities of the size of St. Paul, such as Seattle, Washington, they charge $7.50 per month and in Denver $138.00 a year as against $72.00 per year or $6.00 per month in St. Paul.

Competition means particularly lower rates for residence service. The Northwestern charges $2.00 for a residence telephone in Brainerd; St. Cloud, Crookston and Virginia, where there is no competition. In Red Wing, it charges seventy-five cents per month; Austin, fifty cents; Albert Lea, fifty cents; Mankato, seventy-five cents or free with a business telephone and simply because competition exists.

In the face of these charges in the above competitive cities, does any one believe that the Minnesota Telephone Company cannot furnish four party selective residence service in Brainerd at One Dollar?

Dear Sirs:-

In reply to your inquiry

as regards the purity of the ice which you have put up ready for the market, will say that I have inspected the ice and also Peatch Lake from whence the ice was cut.

Owing to the fact that there is practically no sewage discharged into this lake and that the flow of water into this lake is from surrounding underground springs, I would say that your ice is absolutely pure and wholesome for both cooling and drinking purposes.

Yours Truly,

NEW SUNDAY TRAIN ON M. & I.

Leave Brainerd at 8 in the Morning, on June 6, 13, 20—A Trial
Proposition

NO FREE TRANSPORTATION

Train Service Given in Compliance with the Request of Brainerd
Citizens, says Mr. Gemmell

The Minnesota & International railway company, in compliance with the request of Brainerd citizens, will run a special Sunday passenger train to the lake resorts between Brainerd and Jenkins on Sundays, June 6, 13, and 20. No free transportation of any kind will be honored on this train.

"If after a trial for three Sundays," said General Manager W. H. Gemmell, "The service proves to be unremunerative, the train will be withdrawn."

The train will leave Brainerd at 8 o'clock in the morning, Merrifield 8:20, Hubert 8:30, Nisswa 8:35, Pequot 8:50, arriving at Jenkins at 9 o'clock. The train leaves Jenkins on the return trip at 8 in the evening, Pequot 8:10, Nisswa 8:25, Hubert 8:30, Merrifield 8:40, arriving in Brainerd at 9 in the evening.

This train reaches a great summer resort region adjacent to Brainerd and will permit many Brainerd business men to reach their summer homes more easily than by driving out their cars. It is a service that has been much desired and it is hoped the patronage accorded will be sufficient to cause it to become a permanent feature during summer months.

Director Dr. F. J. Sykora is Leader of the Brainerd City Band Playing Concerts

Band night on Wednesday evening, the opening of the park concert season, was a grand success. The park, with its illuminated band stand, the autos parked about Gregory park, the crowds of children and adults, the soft, warm evening, the entrancing music, all these elements mingled to make it an evening of recreation and of enjoyment to all.

The Brainerd City band, under the direction of Dr. F. J. Sykora, played in its best spirit. The various selections were rendered in most artistic manner and the phrasing and expression given showed that the band had been rehearsing steadily and had accomplished further strides which will continue to make it one of the best bands in this section of the state.

Applause was frequent and the auto horns honked in with the general hand clapping. Playground apparatus was in use during the concert and the little ones enjoyed the visit at Gregory park as much as did their parents.

RE-PAINTING TRAILS

Yellow, Black and Blue Trails Painted by Automobile Trail Blazing
Association

The "yellow" trail leading from Brainerd to Staples, Detroit, Fargo, Hillsboro, N. D., and west has been re-painted by the Automobile Trail Blazing Association of Minneapolis, work being in charge of A. L. Meigs.

The "blue" trail is also being re-painted. This route runs north to Bemidji and is the St. Cloud to Winipeg route by way of Bemidji and Grand Forks.

A "black" trail has been projected and it will run from Nisswa down the west side of Gull lake. This is a scenic run with the greatest of attractions. These blazed trails are of the utmost importance and enable an auto driver to drive rapidly into the country, assured he is on the right road and the best road.

INDEPENDENTS TO PLAY HERE

St. Paul Team Scheduled for Two
Games, Saturday and Sunday,
and Wants to Win Both

CHAMPIONS OF TWIN CITIES

Lefty Faust, and Harry Gardner,
Former St. Paul Association
Pitcher, on the Mound

Brainerd is due for a drubbing next Saturday and Sunday according to the prediction of the manager of the independent baseball team of St. Paul, which plays here on these dates. The "Independents" have the reputation of being one of the strongest city teams in the state and for three years were the champions of the Twin Cities. The team was organized in 1912 under the management of A. B. Herwin and are one of the few organizations that do not depend upon individual subscriptions for support.

In writing about this team Manager Herwin emphatically states: "We are NOT a bunch of dubs, but a well organized team. We will give you all the baseball you want. I fully realize that Brainerd has one of the strongest teams in the state and we are coming up to your town fully aware that in order to make the trip a profitable one we must win both games."

Recently the Independents played at Austin, where they lost by the score of 7 to 1 but which was due largely to the breaks of the game which always seemed to favor Austin. Two games were scheduled while only one could be played owing to wet grounds. "Lefty" Faust, who was on the firing line, had thirteen strike-outs and allowed but five hits.

Harry Gardner, former St. Paul Association pitcher, who drew his release from Mike Kelly less than two weeks ago, will probably join the Independents in their trip to Brainerd. Manager Herwin states that if a deal is closed with Gardner this week he will pitch the first game against Brainerd. Recently an offer has been received from a coast city for Gardner but at a salary far below the figure demanded by the old association player.

The line-up of the visitors was received this morning will be as follows: Norton H. Schillo, Jones, Bielenberg, H. Herwin, Novak, Hertz, Scott, Whipple, Gardner, Dixon, Karn, Faust.

Manager Hansing, in speaking of the coming series, said he was determined to sign up teams that would give Brainerd a run for its money.

So fast has his team developed that they have made recent visitors appear like corner lotters which has resulted in the gate receipts dropping off far below expectations. He is now determined to contest with teams that will compel the local boys to extend themselves in order to break even on the games. The fans can expect to see one of the fastest baseball games of the season next Saturday and Sunday.

OBJECTS TO DUAL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Through the columns of the Brainerd local newspapers I learn that application to the city council has been made for another telephone franchise.

Now while this is a matter so far as authority to grant or reject the application is concerned of the citizens of Brainerd alone, the farm line subscribers are directly interested. In some respects more so than the city subscriber. For instance: A telephone subscriber living in town may wish to telephone to a person residing in the next block but finds that this person has the other company service, he can in this case put on his hat, stroll over to the other fellow's house, in a few moments and transact his business in person. How about the farmer living out five, ten and I know of some out over twenty-five miles. Quite a different matter with "Mr. Farmer," don't you think?

Bear in mind that we have invested our money in these lines, building them to the city limits of Brainerd at which point the Northwestern company meets us and completes the line to their switchboard. Also that our contract with the Northwestern company does not expire until 1919. Furthermore that so far as I can find out all other lines, to the number of twenty-five at least, have similar contracts extending through a period of five or ten years.

We have our telephone troubles, to be sure, the same as with everything else. However we're satisfied with the treatment received from the Northwestern company. I might add that due to their efforts in a large measure our line is a reality today. Think it over Mr. Townsman from the farmers viewpoint and see the difficulties arising in having two telephone systems.

Thanking you,
A Farm Line Subscriber.

FARMERS' CLUBS BAY LAKE PICNIC

Bay Lake Club Invites Seventeen
Farmers' Clubs of County to a
Farmers' Picnic

TAKING PLACE FRIDAY, JULY 16

Dr. Vincent, President University of Minnesota, to be the Speaker
of the Day

At a special meeting of the Bay Lake Farmers' club held at Sunnyside Farm on Friday evening it was voted to invite the seventeen farmers' clubs of Crow Wing County to come to Bay Lake on Friday July 16th to a farmers' picnic. L. P. Hall, the president, appointed committee to arrange details and the delegates to the farmers' club convention at Brainerd will formally present Bay Lake invitation.

While essentially a farmers' picnic a large attendance is assured from Brainerd and the range towns. Indeed, when the complete program is announced it will be impossible to keep people away. Just as a hint of its quality, Dr. Vincent, president of the University of Minnesota, has been secured as speaker of the day. In the amusement line there will be a ball game, various contests, probably a log rolling contest, and motorboat races.

This may seem a rather pretentious undertaking for a rural community but Bay Lake is all "Live wires." It was Bay Lake that built the telephone line that now serves the whole Cuyuna range and Bay Lake that established the most successful farmers' co-operative association in Northern Minnesota, with warehouse at Deerwood. In line with this habit of "starting things" it now aims to establish an annual get-together picnic for the farmers' clubs of this county to be held here next year or with any other club that will entertain the others.

That this is to be one of the big events in the county's history is as certain as that the entertainment offered will be of unusual quality and interest. At the meeting Friday evening when the picnic was decided upon great enthusiasm was aroused. County Agent A. J. Gafke, who addressed the club, declared that undoubtedly the other farmers' clubs would send big delegations. Mrs. P. A. Gough and Messrs. Swanson and Peterson sang. They also urged better acquaintance between village and country and promised Deerwood's hearty support. E. C. Simmons of Brainerd spoke for his city which, he thought would largely attend. The sentiment at Bay Lake is to make this country picnic the best ever—just like the Bay Lake raspberries.

BIG CONCERT BAND

Lieut. Strout's Carnival Concert
Band of 35 Pieces to Play Sunday
Evening at Park

Lieut. Strout's concert band of 35 pieces with the Park Board carnival next week will enliven the proceedings with the latest melodies, the free concerts being one of the most attractive features of the Tom W. Allen Shows.

There are a number of clean and fun-making concessions, all of which will interest and amuse. Mr. Allen wishes it distinctly understood that nothing even approaching a catchpenny device will be permitted on the Midway, and that parents who find it inconvenient to accompany the children will find that they will be amply protected by a special staff of uniformed employees who will see that they come to no harm.

There is nothing to be seen or heard in any of the Tom W. Allen attractions that can in any way injure either the sensibilities or morals of the spectators. Suggestiveness and vulgarity is absolutely tabooed on the Allen Midway.

A variety of attractions will be seen under the tents of this company when it shows here next week for the Park Board. As a big Midway feature the Allen Hippodrome will probably be the most pretentious. It consists of many high class acts and animal exhibitions. The Holland troupe, bareback riders, heads this offering.

There is a treat in store for the youngsters in Blake's dog, monkey and pony acts. "Bucking Maud" will defy anybody to ride her. The Autodrome will show some thrills in daring speed races. The "Nomia" show and her 22 tango girls will offer all the latest songs and dances. It is a show for ladies and gentlemen. There will be many other attractions too numerous to mention.

THE GERMAN WOUNDED

Berlin, June 3rd. (By wireless to Sayville, L. I.)

The Germans are terrifically systematic about their care of the wounded. All their men found on the battlefield receive a "first aid dressing". Each is tagged with a card, which indicates whether he is badly hurt or not. From the battlefield the wounded men are gotten back to the field hospitals or to headquarters. A man may be badly wounded and yet be back on the firing line in three months. Good pure blood is what helps the soldier through—his wounds heal easily after antiseptic dressings. It is well for everybody to put the blood in good order. Don't trifle with health! Its too precious a possession.

It is trifling to neglect the little every-day kind of ailments. It is trifling, too, to take medicines of unknown or doubtful ingredients. If your stomach gets out of order, your food is not digested and, of course, your blood gets thin and you become weak, ready to be a prey to the disease germs always ready to attack the run-down and the anemic. If your liver can't do its work, your blood becomes impure and many troubles follow. If your bowels are irregular, poisons accumulate in your body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery (in tablet or liquid form) helps the stomach to digest food properly, strengthens the liver, regulates the bowels. As a consequence you are vigorous, full of snap and life! Fifty years ago Dr. Pierce discovered that a glycerine extract of Golden Seal and Oregon grape root, of queen's root and bloodroot with black cherry bark would aid all the digestive organs to work as Nature intended they should. Thousands have found that the "Golden Medical Discovery" he then introduced to the world has restored them to health when suffering from stomach and liver troubles. Now is the time to try this famous remedy.—Ad

The "yellow" trail leading from Brainerd to Staples, Detroit, Fargo, Hillsboro, N. D., and west has been re-painted by the Automobile Trail Blazing Association of Minneapolis, work being in charge of A. L. Meigs.

The "Blue" trail is also being re-painted. This route runs north to Bemidji and is the St. Cloud to Winipeg route by way of Bemidji and Grand Forks.

A "Black" trail has been projected and it will run from Nisswa down the west side of Gull lake. This is a scenic run with the greatest of attractions. These blazed trails are of the utmost importance and enable an auto driver to drive rapidly into the country, assured he is on the right road and the best road.

INDEPENDENTS TO PLAY HERE

St. Paul Team Scheduled for Two
Games, Saturday and Sunday,
and Wants to Win Both

CHAMPIONS OF TWIN CITIES

Lefty Faust, and Harry Gardner,
Former St. Paul Association
Pitcher, on the Mound

Brainerd is due for a drubbing next Saturday and Sunday according to the prediction of the manager of the Independent baseball team of St. Paul, which plays here on these dates. The "Independents" have the reputation of being one of the strongest city teams in the state and for three years were the champions of the Twin Cities. The team was organized in 1912 under the management of A. B. Harvin and are one of the few organizations that do not depend upon individual subscriptions for support.

In writing about his team Manager Harvin emphatically states: "We are NOT a bunch of dubs, but a well organized team. We will give you all the baseball you want. I fully realize that Brainerd has one of the strongest teams in the state and we are coming up to your town fully aware that in order to make the trip a profitable one we must win both games."

Recently the Independents played at Austin, where they lost by the score of 7 to 1 but which was due largely to the breaks of the game which always seemed to favor Austin. Two games were scheduled while only one could be played owing to wet grounds. "Lefty" Faust, who was on the firing line, had thirteen strike-outs and allowed but five hits.

Harry Gardner, former St. Paul Association pitcher, who drew his release from Mike Kelly less than two weeks ago, will probably join the Independents in their trip to Brainerd. Manager Harvin states that if a deal is closed with Gardner this week he will pitch the first game against Brainerd. Recently an offer has been received from a coast city for Gardner but at a salary far below the figure demanded by the old association player.

The line-up of the visitors was received this morning will be as follows: Norton If, Schillo rf, Jones 2b, Elienberg 1b, Harvin ss, Novak 3b, Hertz cf, Scott c, Whipple c, Gardner p, Dixon r, Karn p, Faust p.

Manager Harvin, in speaking of the coming series, said he was determined to sign up teams that would give Brainerd a run for its money. So fast has his team developed that they have made recent visitors appear like corner lotteries which has resulted in the gate receipts dropping off far below expectations. He is now determined to contest with teams that will compel the local boys to extend themselves in order to break even on the games. The fans can expect to see one of the fastest baseball games of the season next Saturday and Sunday.

OBJECTS TO DUAL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Through the columns of the Brainerd local newspapers I learn that application to the city council has been made for another telephone franchise.

Now while this is a matter so far as authority to grant or reject the application is concerned of the citizens of Brainerd alone, the farm line subscribers are directly interested. In some respects more so than the city subscriber. For instance: A telephone subscriber living in town may wish to telephone to a person residing in the next block but finds that this person has the other company service, he can in this case put on his hat, stroll over to the other fellow's house, in a few moments and transact his business in person. How about the farmer living out five, ten and I know of some out over twenty-five miles. Quite a different matter with "Mr. Farmer," don't you think?

Bear in mind that we have invested our money in these lines, building them to the city limits of Brainerd at which point the Northwestern company meets us and completes the line to their switchboard. Also that our contract with the Northwestern company does not expire until 1919. Furthermore that so far as I can find out all other lines, to the number of twenty-five at least, have similar contracts extending through a period of five or ten years.

We have our telephone troubles, to be sure, the same as with everything else. However we're satisfied with the treatment received from the Northwestern company. I might add that due to their efforts in a large measure our line is a reality today. Think it over Mr. Townsman from the farmers viewpoint and see the difficulties arising in having two telephone systems.

Thanking you,
A Farm Line Subscriber.

FARMERS' CLUBS BAY LAKE PICNIC

Bay Lake Club Invites Seventeen
Farmers' Clubs of County to a
Farmers' Picnic

TAKING PLACE FRIDAY, JULY 16

Dr. Vincent, President University of Minnesota, to be the Speaker
of the Day

At a special meeting of the Bay Lake Farmers' club held at Sunnyside Farm on Friday evening it was voted to invite the seventeen farmers' clubs of Crow Wing County to come to Bay Lake on Friday July 16th to a farmers' picnic. L. P. Hall, the president, appointed committee to arrange details and the delegates to the farmers' club convention at Brainerd will formally present Bay Lake invitation.

While essentially a farmers' picnic a large attendance is assured from Brainerd and the range towns. Indeed, when the complete program is announced it will be impossible to keep people away. Just as a hint of its quality, Dr. Vincent, president of the University of Minnesota, has been secured as speaker of the day. In the amusement line there will be a ball game, various contests, probably a log rolling contest, and motor-boat races.

This may seem a rather pretentious undertaking for a rural community but Bay Lake is all "Live wires." It was Bay Lake that built the telephone line that now serves the whole Cuyuna range and Bay Lake that established the most successful farmers' co-operative association in Northern Minnesota, with warehouse at Deerwood. In line with this habit of "starting things" it now aims to establish an annual get-together picnic for the farmers' clubs of this county to be held here next year or with any other club that will entertain the others.

That this is to be one of the big events in the county's history is as certain as that the entertainment offered will be of unusual quality and interest. At the meeting Friday evening when the picnic was decided upon great enthusiasm was aroused. County Agent A. J. Gafke, who addressed the club, declared that undoubtedly the other farmers' clubs would send big delegations. Mrs. P. A. Gough and Messrs. Swanson and Peterson sang. They also urged better acquaintance between village and country and promised Deerwood's hearty support. E. C. Simmons of Brainerd spoke for his city which, he thought would largely attend. The sentiment at Bay Lake is to make this country picnic the best ever—just like the Bay Lake raspberries.

BIG CONCERT BAND

Lieut. Strout's Carnival Concert
Band of 35 Pieces to Play Sunday
Evening at Park

Lieut. Strout's concert band of 35 pieces with the Park Board carnival next week will enliven the proceedings with the latest melodies, the free concerts being one of the most attractive features of the Tom W. Allen Shows.

There are a number of clean and fun-making concessions, all of which will interest and amuse. Mr. Allen wishes it distinctly understood that nothing even approaching a catch-penny device will be permitted on the Midway, and that parents who find it inconvenient to accompany the children will find that they will be amply protected by a special staff of uniformed employees who will see that they come to no harm.

There is nothing to be seen or heard in any of the Tom W. Allen attractions that can in any way injure either the sensibilities or morals of the spectators. Suggestiveness and vulgarity is absolutely tabooed on the Allen Midway.

A variety of attractions will be seen under the tents of this company when it shows here next week for the Park Board. As a big Midway feature the Allen Hippodrome will probably be the most pretentious. It consists of many high class acts and animal exhibitions. The Holland troupe, bareback riders, heads this offering.

There is a treat in store for the youngsters in Blake's dog, monkey and pony acts. "Buckling Maud" will defy anybody to ride her. The Autodrome will show some thrills in daring speed races. The "Nomia" show and her 22 tango girls will offer all the latest songs and dances. It is a show for ladies and gentlemen. There will be many other attractions too numerous to mention.

Town Boards of Review

The special election for the purpose of voting on the county option proposition has been called for Monday, June 28th, this also being the date that the various town boards of review are to meet. ### THE GERMAN WOUNDED

Berlin, June 3rd. (By wireless to Sayville, L. I.)

The Germans are terrifically systematic about their care of the wounded. All their men found on the battlefield receive a "First aid dressing". Each is tagged with a card, which indicates whether he is badly hurt or not. From the battlefield the wounded men are gotten back to the field hospitals or to headquarters. A man may be badly wounded and yet be back on the firing line in three months. Good pure blood is what helps the soldier through—his wounds heal easily after antiseptic dressings. It is well for everybody to put the blood in good order. Don't trifle with health! Its too precious a possession.

It is trifling to neglect the little every-day kind of ailments. It is trifling, too, to take medicines of unknown or doubtful ingredients. If your stomach gets out of order, your food is not digested and, of course, your blood gets thin and you become weak, ready to be a prey to the disease germs always ready to attack the run-down and the anemic. If your liver can't do its work, your blood becomes impure and many troubles follow. If your bowels are irregular, poisons accumulate in your body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery (in tablet or liquid form) helps the stomach to digest food properly, strengthens the liver, regulates the bowels. As a consequence you are vigorous, full of snap and life! Fifty years ago Dr. Pierce discovered that a glycerine extract of Golden Seal and Oregon grape root, of queen's root and bloodroot with black cherry bark would aid all the digestive organs to work as Nature intended they should. Thousands have found that the "Golden Medical Discovery" he then introduced to the world has restored them to health when suffering from stomach and liver troubles. Now is the time to try this famous remedy.—Ad

CHAPTER XIX.

The professor rose from his seat in some excitement as the carriage passed through the great gates of Hamblin park. He acknowledged with a smile the respectful curtsy of the woman who held it open.

"You have now an opportunity, my dear Mr. Quest," he said, "of appreciating one feature of English life not entirely reproducible in your own wonderful country. I mean the home life and surroundings of our aristocracy. You see these oak trees?" he went on, with a little wave of his hand. "They were planted by my ancestors in the days of Henry VIII. I have been a student of tree life in South America and in the dense forests of central Africa, but for real character, for splendor of growth and hardiness, there is nothing in the world to touch the Ashleigh oaks."

"They're some trees," the criminalologist admitted.

"You notice, perhaps, the small ones, which seem dwarfed. Their tops were cut off by the lord of Ashleigh on the day that Lady Jane Grey was beheaded. Queen Elizabeth heard of it and threatened to confiscate the estate. Look at the turf, my friend. Ages have gone to the making of that mossy, velvet carpet."

"Where's the house?" Quest inquired.

"A mile farther on yet. The woods part and make a natural avenue past the bend of the river there," the professor pointed out. "Full of trout, that river, Quest. How I used to whip that stream when I was a boy!"

"They swept presently round a bend in the avenue. Before them on the hillside surrounded by trees and with a great walled garden behind, was Hamblin house. Quest gave vent to a little exclamation of wonder as he looked at it."

"This is where you've got us beat, sure," he admitted. "Our country places are like gawdaw palaces compared to this. Makes me kind of sorry," he went on regretfully, "that I didn't bring Lenora along."

The professor shook his head.

"You were very wise," he said. "My brother and Lady Ashleigh have recovered from the shock of poor Lenora's death in a marvelous manner, I believe, but the sight of the girl might have brought it back to them. You have left her with friends, I hope, Mr. Quest?"

"She has an aunt in Hampstead," the latter explained. "I should have liked to see her safely there myself, but we should have been an hour or two later down here, and I tell you," he went on, his voice gathering a note almost of ferocity, "I'm wanting to get my hands on that fellow Craig! I wonder where they're holding him."

"At the local police station, I expect," the professor replied. "My brother is a magistrate, of course, and he would see that proper arrangements were made. There he is at the hall door."

The carriage drew up before the great front a moment or two later. Lord Ashleigh came forward with outstretched hands, the genial smile of the welcoming host upon his lips. In his manner, however, there was a distinct note of anxiety.

"Edgar, my dear fellow," he exclaimed, "I am delighted! Welcome back to your home! Mr. Quest, I am very happy to see you here. You have heard the news, of course?"

"We have heard nothing!" the professor replied.

"You didn't go to Scotland Yard?" Lord Ashleigh asked.

"We haven't been to London at all," Quest explained. "We got on the boat train at Plymouth, and your brother managed to induce one of the directors whom he saw on the platform to stop the train for us at Hamblin road. We only left the boat two hours ago. There's nothing wrong with Craig, is there?"

Lord Ashleigh motioned them to follow him.

"Please come this way," he invited. He led them across the hall—which, dimly lit and with its stained-glass windows, was almost like the nave of a cathedral—into the library beyond. He closed the door and turned around.

"I have bad news for you both," he announced. "Craig has escaped."

Neither the professor nor Quest betrayed any unusual surprise. So far as the latter was concerned, his first glimpse at Lord Ashleigh's face had warned him of what was coming.

"Dear me!" the professor murmured, sinking into an easy chair. "This is most unexpected!"

"We'll get him again," Quest declared quickly. "Can you let us have the particulars of his escape, Lord Ashleigh? The sooner we get the hang of things the better."

"You know, of course," he began, "that Craig was arrested at Liverpool in consequence of communications from the New York police. I understand that it was with great difficulty he was discovered, and it is quite clear that someone on the ship had been heavily bribed. However, he was arrested, brought to London, and then down here for purposes of identification. I would have gone to London myself, and, in fact, offered to do so, but on the other hand, as there are many others on the estate to whom he was well known, I thought that it would be better to have more evidence than mine alone. Accordingly, they left London one afternoon, and I sent a dogcart to the station to meet them. They arrived quite safely and started for here. Craig happened to be one of the Scotland Yard men on the back seat, and the other in front with the driver. About half a mile from the south entrance to the park the road runs across a rather desolate strip of country with a lot of low undergrowth on one side. We have had a little trouble with poachers there, as there is a sort of gypsy camp on some common land a little way away. My head keeper, to whom the very idea of a poacher is intolerable, was patrolling this ground himself that afternoon and caught sight of one of these gypsy fellows setting a trap. He chased him, and more, I am sure, to frighten him than anything else, when he saw that the fellow was getting away, he fired his gun, just as the dogcart was passing. The horse shied, the wheel caught a great stone by the side of the road, and all four men were thrown out. The man to whom Craig was handcuffed was stunned, but Craig himself appears to have been unhurt. He stumbled up, took the key of the handcuffs from the pocket of the officer, undid them and slipped off into the undergrowth before either the groom or the other Scotland Yard man had recovered their senses. To cut a long story short, this was last Thursday, and up till now not a single trace of the fellow has been discovered."

Quest rose abruptly to his feet.

"Say, I'd like to take this matter up right on the spot where Craig disappeared," he suggested. "Couldn't we do that?"

"By all means," Lord Ashleigh agreed, touching a bell. "We have several hours before we change for dinner. I will have a car round and take you to the spot."

The professor acquiesced readily, and very soon they stepped out of the automobile on to the side of a narrow road, looking very much as it had been described. Farther on, beyond a stretch of open common, they could see the smoke from the gypsy encampment. On their left-hand side was a stretch of absolutely wild country, bounded in the far distance by the gray stone wall of the park. Lord Ashleigh led the way through the thicket, talking as he went.

The Suspension Bridge.

There is no doubt that the first idea of a suspension bridge was suggested to primitive man by the interlacing of tree branches and parasitical plants across rivers. Probably monkeys used them before men did. In very mountainous countries, such as Tibet and Peru, they have apparently been used since the dawn of history, possibly earlier.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. These famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

SHOULD VOTE FOR BONDS

Writer Urges that Voters of City Should Also Vote for 12½ Mill Tax Levy

Editorial Dispatch:

Since the council requested a charter amendment of the charter commission and since the commission has submitted an amendment raising the possible tax levy for city expenses to twelve and a half mills, there has been a great cry raised about the loss of revenue formerly received from the saloons and blaming our local option for the cause of it all.

Let us carefully review facts and see where this additional revenue is needed and why we loyal citizens should support the amendment.

Under the new plan of assessment the valuation of taxable property has been reduced about $149,000. This caused a loss of about $1,400 to the general fund.

The interest on the new city hall bonds alone is $3,750 per annum. To this must be added a cost for fuel and janitor which will approximate about $1,250 or about $5,000 annually. A credit may be given this for the rent paid for the former council chambers and the electric light department of $1,050 leaving a net additional annual expense to the city from the new city hall of $3,920.

The interest on the bonds for the Northeast Brainerd Hill will be $1,925 which together with the city hall interest and upkeep approximates about $4,945. These amounts, with the deficit in taxation referred to above approximate the amount the increase in tax levy asked for will amount to.

When the voter goes to the voting booth and votes upon the charter amendment he should vote yes. These indebtednesses were created by the voters and they should meet them. If we build houses, we should pay for them.

The bond issue is a different matter. Unquestionably our street improvements have been paid for by the saloons. Growsome, isn't it?—when our district judge states that 90% of crime coming under his jurisdiction is caused by liquor and yet we build a new lockup to hold the men degraded by liquor and promenade upon the streets purchased by this degradation. We ask you seriously if we had not better do away with improvised streets if they can only be had by licensed saloons.

Unless Brainerd is different from all other cities, the amount of money paid for liquor will go into homes, into legitimate lines of trade and the additional valuation and prosperity will, within a few years, raise the revenue of the city so that this work may be paid for. But we want the work to go on. To accomplish this, the council has asked for a bond issue of $15,000 to pay for the intersection of streets and that the work may be done now and paid for by the city after the financial affairs adjust themselves. This is endorsed by many of Brainerd's best business men and we believe that it should have the support of the voters. That is, vote yes for the bond issue.

But when considering these questions, remember that the voters authorizing the city hall and the "Hill" and that we should now vote to pay for them. Also remember that our present levy would have been sufficient had we not made these improvements and had the valuations not been reduced. Also further remember that our last council had the largest saloon revenue in the history of the city. It used approximately 4,000 of the city hall bonds for city expenses and yet closed the year owing for a $5,000 motor truck.

We now have a good conservative council, let us support them and their causes.

BOY SUCCUMBS TO RABIES

Was Bitten on the Face by a Dog on May 12.

Minneapolis, June 3.—Chford Anderson, a farmer boy whose home was near Vasa, Goodhue county, is dead at the University of Minnesota hospital following an attack of rabies.

The boy was bitten by a dog belonging to his grandparents and the wounds, which were inflicted on his face, were made May 12.

May 15 he was taken to the Pasteur Institute of the Minnesota board of health for treatment. May 29 symptoms of the disease were observed. Cases which develop in less than five or six weeks are of such a violent type that the administrators of the Pasteur treatment declare they seldom can save the patient.

LIVE CATTLE BEING SHIPPED TO FRANCE

Sent to Paris From Chicago to Furnish Allies With Beef.

Chicago, June 2.—Live cattle are being shipped from this city to France to furnish the allied armies with beef during the summer campaign. Agents of one of the large packing companies have been busy for a month buying live stock physically fit to stand an ocean voyage and as a result the price of this class of cattle has risen $1 a hundred pounds.

Sixteen hundred live cattle were shipped to Paris a week ago and a consignment of 1,000 was dispatched Wednesday. These shipments are said to be on a contract calling for 5,000 live cattle, with prospects for renewals indefinitely, if the experiment proves satisfactory.

The cattle will be shipped from New York on tramp steamers to a French port, driven directly to the battle front and slaughtered in the trenches as needed to feed the army.

CHAPTER XIX.

The professor rose from his seat in some excitement as the carriage passed through the great gates of Hamblin park. He acknowledged with a smile the respectful curtsy of the woman who held it open.

"You have now an opportunity, my dear Mr. Quest," he said, "of appreciating one feature of English life not entirely reproducible in your own wonderful country. I mean the home life and surroundings of our aristocracy. You see these oak trees?" he went on, with a little wave of his hand. "They were planted by my ancestors in the days of Henry VIII. I have been a student of tree life in South America and in the dense forests of central Africa, but for real character, for splendor of growth and hardiness, there is nothing in the world to touch the Ashleigh oaks."

"They're some trees," the criminologist admitted.

"You notice, perhaps, the small ones, which seem dwarfed. Their tops were cut off by the lord of Ashleigh on the day that Lady Jane Grey was beheaded. Queen Elizabeth heard of it and threatened to confiscate the estate. Look at the turf, my friend. Ages have gone to the making of that mossy, velvet carpet."

"Where's the house?" Quest inquired.

"A mile farther on yet. The woods part and make a natural avenue past the bend of the river there," the professor pointed out. "Full of trout, that river, Quest. How I used to whip that stream when I was a boy!"

"They swept presently round a bend in the avenue. Before them on the hillside surrounded by trees and with a great walled garden behind, was Hamblin house. Quest gave vent to a little exclamation of wonder as he looked at it."

"This is where you've got us beat, sure," he admitted. "Our country places are like gawgaw palaces compared to this. Makes me kind of sorry," he went on regretfully, "that I didn't bring Lenora along."

The professor shook his head.

"You were very wise," he said. "My brother and Lady Ashleigh have recovered from the shock of poor Lena's death in a marvelous manner, I believe, but the sight of the girl might have brought it back to them. You have left her with friends, I hope, Mr. Quest?"

"She has an aunt in Hampstead," the latter explained. "I should have liked to see her safely there myself, but we should have been an hour or two later down here, and I tell you, she went on, his voice gathering a note almost of ferocity, "I'm wanting to get my hands on that fellow Craig! I wonder where they're holding him."

"At the local police station, I expect," the professor replied. "My brother is a magistrate, of course, and he would see that proper arrangements were made. There he is at the hall door."

The carriage drew up before the great front a moment or two later. Lord Ashleigh came forward with outstretched hands, the genial smile of the welcoming host upon his lips. In his manner, however, there was a distinct note of anxiety.

"Edgar, my dear fellow," he exclaimed, "I am delighted! Welcome back to your home! Mr. Quest, I am very happy to see you here. You have heard the news, of course?"

"We have heard nothing!" the professor replied.

"You didn't go to Scotland Yard?" Lord Ashleigh asked.

"We haven't been to London at all," Quest explained. "We got on the boat train at Plymouth, and your brother managed to induce one of the directors whom he saw on the platform to stop the train for us at Hamblin road. We only left the boat two hours ago. There's nothing wrong with Craig, is there?"

Lord Ashleigh motioned them to follow him.

"Please come this way," he invited. He led them across the hall—dimly lit and with its stained-glass windows, was almost like the nave of a cathedral—into the library beyond. He closed the door and turned around.

"I have bad news for you both," he announced. "Craig has escaped."

Neither the professor nor Quest betrayed any unusual surprise. So far as the latter was concerned, his first glimpse at Lord Ashleigh's face had warned him of what was coming.

"Dear me!" the professor murmured, sinking into an easy chair. "This is most unexpected!"

"We'll get him again," Quest declared quickly. "Can you let us have the particulars of his escape, Lord Ashleigh? The sooner we get the hang of things the better."

"You know, of course," he began, "that Craig was arrested at Liverpool in consequence of communications from the New York police. I understand that it was with great difficulty he was discovered, and it is quite clear that someone on the ship had been heavily bribed. However, he was arrested, brought to London, and then down here for purposes of identification. I would have gone to London myself, and, in fact, offered to do so, but on the other hand, as there are many others on the estate to whom he was well known, I thought that it would be better to have more evidence than mine alone. Accordingly, they left London one afternoon, and I sent a dogcart to the station to meet them. They arrived quite safely and started for here. Craig had slipped to one of the Scotland Yard men on the back seat, and the other in front with the driver. About half a mile from the south entrance to the park the road runs across a rather desolate strip of country with a lot of low undergrowth on one side. We have had a little trouble with poachers there, as there is a sort of gypsy camp on some common land a little way away. My head keeper, to whom the very idea of a poacher is intolerable, was patrolling this ground himself that afternoon and caught sight of one of these gypsy fellows setting a trap. He chased him, and more I am sure, to frighten him than anything else, when he saw that the fellow was getting away, he fired his gun, just as the dogcart was passing. The horse shied, the wheel caught a great stone by the side of the road, and all four men were thrown out. The man to whom Craig was handcuffed was stunned, but Craig himself appears to have been unhurt. He stumbled up, took the key of the handcuffs from the pocket of the officer, undid them and slipped off into the undergrowth before either the groom or the other Scotland Yard man had recovered their senses. To cut a long story short, this was last Thursday, and up till now not a single trace of the fellow has been discovered."

Quest rose abruptly to his feet.

"Say, I'd like to take this matter up right on the spot where Craig disappeared," he suggested. "Couldn't we do that?"

"By all means," Lord Ashleigh agreed, touching a bell. "We have several hours before we change for dinner. I will have a car round and take you to the spot."

The professor acquiesced readily, and very soon they stepped out of the automobile on to the side of a narrow road, looking very much as it had been described. Farther on, beyond a stretch of open common, they could see the smoke from the gypsy encampment. On their left-hand side was a stretch of absolutely wild country, bounded in the far distance by the gray stone wall of the park. Lord Ashleigh led the way through the thicket, talking as he went.

The Suspension Bridge.

There is no doubt that the first idea of a suspension bridge was suggested to primitive man by the interlacing of tree branches and parasitical plants across rivers. Probably monkeys used them before men did. In very mountainous countries, such as Tibet and Peru, they have apparently been used since the dawn of history, possibly earlier.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

SHOULD VOTE FOR BONDS

Writer Urges that Voters of City Should Also Vote for 12½ Mill Tax Levy

Editor's Dispatch:—

Since the council requested a charter amendment of the charter commission and since the commission has submitted an amendment raising the possible tax levy for city expenses to twelve and a half mills, there has been a great cry raised about the loss of revenue formerly received from the saloons and blaming our local option for the cause of it all.

Let us carefully review facts and see where this additional revenue is needed and why we loyal citizens should support the amendment.

Under the new plan of assessment the valuation of taxable property has been reduced about $140,000. This caused a loss of about $1,400 to the general fund.

The interest on the new city hall bonds alone is $3,750 per annum. To this must be added a cost for fuel and janitor which will approximate about $1,250 or about $5,000 annually. A credit may be given for the rent paid for the former council chambers and the electric light department of $1,050 leaving a net additional annual expense to the city from the new city hall of $3,925.

The interest on the bonds for the Northeast Brainerd Mill will be $1,925 which together with the city hall interest and upkeep approximates about $4,945. These amounts, with the deficit in taxation referred to above approximate the amount the increase in tax levy asked for will amount to.

When the voter goes to the voting booth and votes upon the charter amendment he should vote yes. Those indebtednesses were created by the voters and they should meet them. If we build houses, we should pay for them.

The bond issue is a different matter. Unquestionably our street improvements have been paid by the saloons. Grewsome, isn't it?—when our district judge states that 90% of crime coming under his jurisdiction is caused by liquor and yet we build a new lockup to hold the men degraded by liquor and promenade upon the streets purchased by this degradation. We ask you a question if we had not better do away with improved streets if they can only be had by licensed saloons.

Unless Brainerd is different from other cities, the amount of money sent for liquor will go into homes, into legitimate lines of trade and the additional valuation and prosperity will, within a few years, raise the revenue of the city so that this work may be paid for. But we want the work to go on. To accomplish this, the council has asked for a bond issue of $15,000 to pay for the intersection of streets and that the work may be done now and paid for by the city after the financial affairs adjust themselves. This is endorsed by many of Brainerd's best business men and we believe that it should have the support of the voters. That is, vote yes for the bond issue.

But when considering these questions, remember that the voters authorized the city hall and the "B" mill and that we should now vote to pay for them. Also remember that our present levy would have been sufficient had we not made these improvements and had the valuations not been reduced. Also further remember that our last council had the arrestation on revenue in the history of the city. It used approximately 1,000 of the city hall bonds for city expenses and yet closed the year with a $3,000 motor truck.

We now have a good conservative council, let us support them and their work.

BOY SUCCUMBS TO RABIES

Was Bitten on the Face by a Dog on May 12.

Minneapolis, June 3.—Chford Anderson, a farmer boy whose home was near Vasa, Goodhue county, is dead at the University of Minnesota hospital following an attack of rabies.

The boy was bitten by a dog belonging to his grandparents and the wounds, which were inflicted on his face, were made May 12.

May 15 he was taken to the Pasteur Institute of the Minnesota board of health for treatment. May 29 symptoms of the disease were observed. Cases which develop in less than five or six weeks are of such a violent type that the administrators of the Pasteur treatment declare they seldom can save the patient.

LIVE CATTLE BEING SHIPPED TO FRANCE

Sent to Paris From Chicago to Furnish Allies With Beef.

Chicago, June 3.—Live cattle are being shipped from this city to France to furnish the allied armies with beef during the summer campaign. Agents of one of the large packing companies have been busy for a month buying live stock physically fit to stand an ocean voyage and as a result the price of this class of cattle has risen $1 a hundred pounds.

Sixteen hundred live cattle were shipped to Paris a week ago and a consignment of 1,000 was dispatched Wednesday. These shipments are said to be on a contract calling for 5,000 live cattle, with prospects for renewals indefinitely. If the experiment proves satisfactory.

The cattle will be shipped from New York on tramp steamers to a French port, driven directly to the battle front and slaughtered in the trenches as needed to feed the army.
